

WE NOMINATE

Mathilde Christman McKinney, composer, pianist and teacher, who has made this Holiday Season even more memorable by creating "A Christmas Cantata" expressly for Princeton High School's Annual Christmas Concert in the University Chapel next Monday evening, December 21st. Marking the fifth time in the past three years that Mrs. McKinney has dedicated a composition to a distinctive "Princeton Event," the soon-to-be-heard Cantata, which combines traditional chorales and original four-part choruses, also represents a significant development on the American scene—Christmas music which links the turbulent present with the world's wondrous Christmas heritage.

The inspiration for this latest work, to be presented by the High School's choral groups and brass choir grew out of a concert Mrs. McKinney attended last winter in the Chapel. A friend suggested that she should do something equally appealing "for some special occasion, possibly for the Christmas concert." She agreed and last July started cramming the project into the same crowded routine that produced a two-part anthem for the 50th Anniversary of Miss Fine's School in 1950, a cantata for 1952's Community Good Friday Service, an "Elegie for Strings" for the Princeton Symphony Orchestra and just a year ago "The Wise Men" for the Girls' Ensemble of the High School.

While laymen may insist that composers dwell in ivory towers, Mrs. McKinney, now nationally known for her contributions in the field of music, can be described as a "delightfully normal person with an exceptional variety of interests." For her, "music is there all of the time" and she enjoys recalling that "I even thought out one of my shorter pieces while canning tomatoes." She finds that ideas come easily but what demands hour upon hour is the preparation of the rough draft and then the painstaking process of transcribing the finished score.

Mrs. McKinney, whose training included graduation from the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, four years of intensive work in New York City's Juilliard School and study under a number of distinguished composers, traces her musical career back to her early years in South Bend, Indiana, where at home "we had music from the time we could walk." One of seven musically gifted children, she started piano lessons at seven and played her first recital at 13, the same year she began study of the organ and two years before she held her first church position in the St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church, South Bend.

The wife of a research chemist, and the mother of the High School's top trumpeter, 15-year old Bruce, Mrs. McKinney stopped what she terms "dabbling" in 1936 and began composing when asked to write music for a modern dance group in Pittsburgh, Pa. She was for six years the pianist for the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, playing under the remarkable Fritz Reiner, and for some eight years, after establishing her home here, taught piano at New Jersey College for Women.

For the refreshing vitality she imparts to her music and to anything she undertakes; for adding greatly to Princeton's enjoyment of its "Season of Seasons"; for insisting that "I am very lucky because here I have events to write for and also people to play the things I love to do"; she is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for Perhaps we can help a proud father "pay for the baby." That's a pretty important loan for all concerned.

And then there are other needs that your budget may not cover . . . special dental work . . . unusual taxes . . . school expenses . . . emergency trip.

To our way of thinking, personal loans at these times can be more than just loans. Give us a chance to help. We'd like to.

Christmas Cheer. If no one could remember when Princeton had last had a white Christmas, at least it was no longer necessary to look at a calendar to be sure Christmas was coming. Greeting cards were in the mail, trees were going inside homes and lights were going on outside. Lines in the post office were at their longest, and shopping was reaching a peak—to remain there until late afternoon on Christmas Eve.

In churches, school auditoriums and theatres, the ageless story of peace on earth would be retold, holding as much pleasure for those seeing it again as for the very young partaking for the first time. (For a listing of such events, see Calendar of the Week and News of the Theatres, pages 12 and 13.)

From a community point of view, the various celebrations will be climaxed on Christmas Eve with the annual carol sing in Palmer Square, sponsored for the 14th consecutive year by the civic-minded Lions Club. Princeton Municipal Improvement, Inc. is the co-sponsor of the event.

Motion pictures at The Playhouse at 5:45 are open to all children of the community without charge, with candy canes, equally free, to be distributed at the end of the show. The big Norway Spruce will be lighted and candles placed in all windows overlooking the Square.

Carol singing at 6:30 will be preceded by a word of welcome from Chester A. Page, Lion president, and a Christmas message from the Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church. Following the traditional appearance of Santa Claus on the rooftops, the Nassau Tavern will welcome all in attendance for hot refreshments.

The display in TOWN TOPICS' window at 4 Mercer Street (lights chasing each other across a screen in a profusion of red, green, yellow and indigo) is the work of artist James Davis of 30 Nassau Street. A powerful spotlight plays over plastic mobiles, with refracted light caught in a series of ever-changing forms on the screen.

Santa Claus Speaking. In another part of town, Santa Claus was enjoying his heyday once more. Calls from all parts of the Princeton area and a few others paying a toll charge to talk to the Jolly Old Soul were being received daily at 3375.

Henry Schultz was chatting away happily with his ever-eager audience, and never seemed at a loss for an answer, no matter how imaginative the question. He and his background of jungle bells a new touch this year—would he on the answering end of the telephone each weekday afternoon from 3 to 5 until Christmas Eve.

To help stretch his savings and make his Christmas merrier, these Princeton firms have contributed to a fund for him:

Your Help Is Asked. As always, replies to the Town Topics Christmas Fund had a heart-warming quality that reflected the warmth of the Princeton community. One letter said:

"My heart goes out to 'Betty D.' Out of my savings in a Christmas Club that I was not able to carry to a finish, I share with 'Betty.'"

Another contributor wrote: "It gives me satisfaction to add my bit to the aid of this fine person. We spent two poignant winters in Finland and saw something of the fire spirit that serves their purpose; certainly she has spelled out the 'sisu,' which is the backbone for their tenacity in carrying on under all circumstances."

"And, really, she gives us more in such splendid qualities than we can give her."

Five days after the appeal had been made, $541 had been received. The figure is lower than the amount given at a comparable time in the past three years, and the need for financial assistance is as great as that in any of the previous Christmas appeals.

A woman whose hard-earned savings were lost in an effort to hold her family together, and who is now the sole support for herself and four young boys, is doing everything she can to provide food, clothing, a home and the other essentials of life. If Princetonians will continue to help as they have in the past, checks payable to the Town Topics Christmas Fund and mailed to P. O. Box 6641, their fine record of caring for those less fortunate than themselves will be maintained.

Warning: Forger at Large. A forger who cashed two checks worth a total of $174 in two Princeton shops this month is being sought by police. The checks have been professionally printed against the non-existent "National Bank of Rahway" and are stamped to bear resemblance to a payroll check of the equally mystical "Central Floor Machine Manufacturing Co."

The forger is described as a man 50 to 55 years of age, about 5 feet, five inches tall with greying dark hair and wearing a blue suit. Police reports indicate he has also been at work in Trenton and New Brunswick.

Candlelight Service. Miss Fine's School will hold its annual Candlelight Service of Music on Friday afternoon at 4:30 in the auditorium. Participating in the program, under the direction of Miss Rosamond Cohan, will be the Glee Club, the Madrigal Group and students of the middle and upper school. Mrs. Marta Paesu will provide piano accompaniment.

On Wednesday the lower school presented a Christmas pageant entitled "The Christmas Rose". Directed by Miss Madeline Weigel.

It's New to Us

Full Circle. It will be a week yet before your stockings are hung by your chimney with care, but it isn't too early to think about what to put in them. Stocking stuffers, gifts to buy at the last minute for somebody you forgot to put on an earlier list, and best of all, the steaming pudding, the studded fruit-cake and the bowl of Christmas punch—all these things are in our notes for this final column.

Shod. Fill a stocking with a shoe? It's a trick to try. Moccasins for women from English boot-makers are at Hult's, 140 Nassau. Try them on in red, white or pastels. Fleece-lined at $5.95. For your favorite cowboy, a boot in black with white or brown with green, low-heeled, sized 8½ to 3.

If a traveling man lives in your house, buy him slippers in a case, to slip into a traveling bag. If he's a Daniel Green fan, you'll find these at Hult's, too. A moccasin for men or women has wool fleece lining. We saw it in a one-piece style, but it also comes with leather sole. Natural-colored glove leather makes a slipper with hand-turned sole for $7.95. Look at a handsome all-leather

3 Wonderful Ways

TO SAY

Merry Christmas

To Her—an Herb Shelf of antique wood complete with 9 jars of Bellow's seasonings, $6.50; 12 jars—$8.75.

To Him—a box or basket of things to munch on and spread and enjoy himself with—from $4.50. Or select your own assortment at any price.

To All—a crock of Fromage Maison—that incomparable blend and a jar of crisp Swedish wafers. Boxed and bowed—$3.35.

Open Fridays to 9 P. M. 180 Nassau St. Tele: 1-4427

woman's scuff in red only for $3.50, or another in black or red corduroy lined with plaid for $3.95. An Oomphie done in paisley, has bells for your toes—all you need is rings on your fingers. Gold-trimmed and $6.95.

A little girl could wear a pink satin (or blue) sling slipper, if she wears sizes 8 to 3.

Buy evening slippers here for New Year's Eve in gold or silver kid, or white satin that can be dyed in a minute. Put sparkle on a black suede with rhinestone clips, sold separately.

Witchery. All the magic names in women's cosmetics are on the Thorne counters. Here at 168 Nassau we found Rubinstein, Caron, Arden, du Barry, Revlon, Yardley, Lanvin, Gourielli — and many more.

Here's another — Houbigant, with its pink-and-white lace packaging for "Chantilly" colognes. Rubinstein has a Christmas-wrapped jeweled package of "Command Performance" or "Heaven Sent" for $1.50.

Look at Matchelli's cologne duet for $2.50, and the fabulous Abano bath salts for $2.50, in the ceramic column topped with the famous crown. Matchelli puts sachets into a flat box, bedded in frosty net for $2.

Compacts here at Thorne's look like a jewellers' collection. Monteil and du Barry have compacts in gold with "jewels" as big as dimes arranged on the front. Most of these compacts are rectangular, some have a lipstick attached, others are part of a set, like the big one Max Factor has offered. It holds, besides its compact, lotion, lipstick and a lipstick brush for $7.90.

Coty has a carol singer whose body is a cologne bottle resting on a standard of bath salts. To make sure it's all done properly—how about a make-up mirror, edged with gold, for $2.50 or $3.50?

Elizabeth Arden at Wilcox', 20 Nassau, puts three perfumes into Glitter Ball for $5 plus tax. A starter set holds powder, a creme, hand lotion, foundation cream and a night cream. Three sachets are $3.00 (plus tax). Someone on your list would like a black purse compact with lipstick and Perfumait in a plastic case.

Snow Boot for $5.75 and a felt mitt are full of holiday spirit. They hold Perfumait and a stick of solid cologne.

At Artistic Hairdressers, 352 Nassau, Elizabeth Arden products hold the spotlight, too. Bath sets, colognes, bath oil, and the Blue Grass sets that have been favorites for so many Christmases. Party? Sprinkle into your hair some glitter dust from Artistic.

You know, of course, to look for Henri Bendel at The Clothes Line, Palmer Square West, where you can place a special order for any perfume not in stock; at Elise Goupil, 217 Nassau, for Mary Chess products; and at The Town Shop, 57 Palmer Square West, for Georg Jensen cosmetics.

Children and Men Next. Slip a soap set into a child's stocking. Thorne's has them in fantastic shapes—did you ever see a hot-dog soap cake? No mustard, please. Comes also in hamburgers, a la carte. Depending on the bent of your child, you can buy soap footballs, horses, kittens, circus performers — even quintuplet dolls.

One set at Thorne's appealed to us particularly: it's an eight-inch square cabinet that holds a full set of child's toilet articles: toothbrush, glass, brush comb and small mirror, all for $2.89. Hang —Continued on Page 8

Christmas Programs. Two Christmas operettas will be presented by the Nassau Street School and the Quarry Street School as part of the December meetings of the Parent-Teacher Association. On Friday evening at 8 the fourth grade of the Nassau Street School will offer "The Magic Nutcracker" in the school auditorium, while the Quarry Street School will present "The Magi's Gift" on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Included in the cast of "The Magic Nutcracker" are Gretchen Whitehead, Gordon Lutz, John Thorpe, Robert Sathumny, Freddy Miller, Susan Lees, Frances Mack, Barbara Vincent, Harry Morton, Edith Levenenz, Robert Carson, Chad Brumbaugh and Lucie Arbuthnot.

Mary Whitehead, Paul Perry, Dorrie Minis, Loro Graham, Nancy Niles, Helen Harbison, Douglas Kerr, John Reed, Hugh Goodheart, John Frederiksen, James Thorpe, Carl Frederiksen, Steven Lockwood, William Dix, Robert Hoyler, Thomas Hollman, Thomas Knight, John Gillen, Keith Hayard, Arnold Urken, Catherine Christian and Catherine Consoli will be the main characters in "The Magi's Gift."

Petitions Against Ordinance. Township residents, primarily those in the Battle Park area, are still objecting to the municipality's ordinance requiring houses to be numbered. The law was passed last August, but has still to be enforced.

Post Office Hours

A temporary addition to Post Office hours has been announced for Saturday and Sunday, December 19 and 20, by Postmaster Charles F. Murray. The parcel post and stamp windows will be open Saturday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. A complete city delivery of mail and parcel post will be made on Sunday.

At Monday night's meeting, three petitions were read asking exceptions to the measure on a basis of annoyance, inconvenience and expense to property owners. Mayor Albert Salzman reported that he was unable to grant the exceptions but agreed that the ordinance would receive further study.

An ordinance passed on final reading accepted for municipal ownership and maintenance Cuyler Road, Dempsey Avenue and Walnut Lane. Tabled for further consideration, was another of similar nature involving Roper Road, Random Road, Little Brook Road and portions of Poe Road and Rollingmead.

Squatters Elect. James A. Lahey has been elected 1954 president of the Squatters Fish and Game Club. He will be joined by: Jay A. Murray, vice president; Leonard F. Kraus, treasurer; Roland A. Prudhon, secretary; and Reuben F. Johnson, trustee for three years.

Lahey appointed Arthur Breman and Mr. Murray as co-chairmen of the 20th annual club banquet to be held early in February. The club also elected George F. Cramer to membership.

Music and Dance. A course in Jazz given by one of America's best known authorities in the field; music appreciation, square dancing, piano instruction and social dancing will be among the courses offered by the 1954 Princeton adult school starting January 14.

Wilder Huhson, columnist and author in the field of American Jazz, will lecture on the development of Jazz from African rhythms to folk songs, blues, ragtime, swing and bop. He will consider the New Orleans, Chicago, Harlem and Kansas City "schools" as well as such figures as Louis Armstrong, Jellyroll Morton, Bix Beiderbecke, Jack Teagarden, Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman and Count Basie. Mr. Huhson will illustrate the lectures with recordings from his own collection. The course will be given Thursdays at 9:15 p.m. in Clio Hall on the University campus.

Lectures in music appreciation will be given by George Starn of the University's department of music. Directed toward the layman, the informal lectures will deal with some of the basic ideas, forms, relations and problems of music. Recordings will be used for demonstration and discussion, as well as live performances whenever possible.

"Senior Alumnus"

The Rev. Paul Martin of 8 Evelyn Place has become the oldest living alumnus of Princeton University. Now in his 92d year, Mr. Martin is one of the two surviving members of the Class of 1882. He succeeds, as "senior-alumnus" his classmate, the Rev. Gerard B. F. Halleck, who died last week at the age of 97 in Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. Martin, a resident of Princeton for over half a century, served from 1906 to 1932 as registrar and clerk of the faculty at Princeton Theological Seminary from which he was graduated in 1886. He has been moderator of the Presbytery of New Brunswick and in 1938 served as the first chairman of the Princeton Adult School. Remarkably active for his age, Mr. Martin forewent golfing, his favorite sport, at the age of 85.

The Rev. Mr. Gettier, pastor of the Unitarian Church, will be introduced by Mrs. Jean G. Arrott, in charge of this series of meetings sponsored by the United World Federalists and the Society of Friends. A discussion period and coffee hour will follow.

Pledge Paid. The Hospital Aid Committee has made the final payment on $21,000 pledged to the Princeton Hospital Building Fund and it was announced this week by Mrs. Samuel Atkins, committee president. The sum, originally pledged four years ago, has been paid off through semi-annual rummage sales held at the firehouse of Mercer Engine Co. 3 on Chambers Street.

In addition to the sponsoring of the sales, the Hospital Aid Committee's 70 members have financed and staffed the Hospitality Shop in the hospital.

Miscellany. Sons have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Hill, 3 Morgan Place; Mr. and Mrs. William Foster, 100 Stockton Street; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stimpson, 357 Nassau Street; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cevera, 10 Leavitt Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Kirkpatrick, Jamesburg; daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Road; Mr. and Mrs. David D. Holme, 13 Dorann Avenue.

The Yale Club of Mercer County will hold a Father and Son Dinner this Friday at 6:30 at the Nassau Tavern. Tristram B. Johnson of 46 Westcott Road, a member of the Yale Alumni Board, and Wolcott N. Baker of Valley Road, are in charge of arrangements.

it on the bathroom wall at reaching level and bring some order to the adult medicine chest.

Lots of bubblebaths for little girls (boys sometimes sneak them in). One set has bubble-bath, soap and toilet water for $1.75. "Little Lady" has a bottle of toilet water with an atomizer—family beware! "Tang" is the name Gourielli gives to its products for men. We found a set for $5.50 of cologne, talc and after-shave lotion. This is at Thorne's. Here also, a set by Max Factor called the Signature Travel Trio; after-shave, deodorant cologne and cream hair dressing for $3.50.

In Case. Put all your cosmetics into travel bags or make-up bags. Thorne's has them from $1, including a tidy little purse-comb and brush inside a striped rayon zip bag for $1.50. Convenient as anything.

Artistic Hairdressers has kits, too, for travel or just to keep things neat. Children's cosmetic kits available here, too.

Caboose. At the end of the line, some things we missed the first time around: lingerie at Clayton's, 17 Palmer Square West, is a heavy-weight nylon tricot, white and opaque. A tailored slip, trimmed with nylon net, is $5.95; only $5 for a white one with softly gathered bodice. Other nylon slips have hand-made re-embroidered lace.

A handsome gown, here at Clayton's, is made of champagne-colored nylon with square neck to its lace bodice, and deep rose-colored ribbon at the waist. For $14.95. Bod-jackets and bod-capes are clear blue pleated nylon, one with small gold thread at the collar. A rayon challis gown for $5.95 comes in pastels and hangs chaste and straight from a tiny yoke. Brushed nylon at Clayton's is $12.95.

Other bod-jackets in rayon or nylon at Bert-Ann, 188 Nassau, from $2.95 to $8.95. New in this shop—dressed-up cashmeres from Scotland, some with cut-out work at a jewel neck.

Little jewel cases at The Little Hosiery Shop, 200 Nassau, are made of velvet, lined with brushed fabric. Slip inside an Elgin watch from Pakman's, 9 Witherspoon, new local distributors of this brand.

Little and Choice. Small gifts come by the careful at Luttmann's, 132 Nassau. If you know someone who's going abroad, buy him a leather case with six plastic bottles to hold pills or medicines. Zips shut. Fitted vanity cases and traveling bags (unfitted, if your wallet is coming unfitted by this time) are happy gifts for the wanderer.

For men or women, lots of little things to swell the stocking: Florentine cases for glasses, coin purses, trinket boxes, jewel boxes, all in the Florentine manner, starting at $1.50. You'll like the reptile compacts, cigarette cases, hillfolks and traveling umbrellas, in almost any color you want.

Manicure sets, fitted cases with bottles and funnel for carrying colognes or any other liquids,—you can find something for anybody in this collection. Take a second look at two shoe-horns: one a pigskin fellow with long handle for someone who finds it hard to stoop, the other made of horn in England and sent here to ease on some American shoe.

Luttmann's has the $1 gifts again this year: leather key rings, tiny purses no bigger than your fingernail, folding scissors from Germany, a pocket knife with corkscrew attached, and a tiny cigarette lighter no bigger than a quarter. It works, too.

More leather key-rings at Clayton's, and trinket boxes in the feminine manner, done with gold touches and some spangle. Perfume flacons are porcelain and gold, or snakeskin. Cigarette butlers, some with matching lipstick holders, are slim enough to slide into any purse. Clayton's pucker perfume atomizer is shaped like a spray-gun.

Sub-debs could find gifts at Lillian Bellows', 6 Chambers Street. Narrow silk scarves carry gold scissors at the end; costume jewelry bears the Princeton seal. Charm bracelets would charm any young girl. An unusual gift from this shop might be the nylon styled especially for slender young legs.

Not sure of a boy's size? Prep Shop, 12 Chambers, has military brushes, wallets, shoeshine kits, and neckties.

Nibble, Nibble Mousekin. The magic house that Hensel and Gretel found in the woods must have tasted like some of the Christmas treats we found in Princeton this season. Give your family a Christmas dessert—vanilla ice cream with a Christmas tree in its center, by Louis Sherry at the Nassau Candy Centre, 52 Nassau.

Thorne's, 168 Nassau, has candy boxes stacked as high as that fairy-tale house. Whitman's Sampler chocolates in miniature size or full size. Whitman's fruit and nut candies, too. Candy Cupboard, at Thorne's, is $1.24 a pound, $2.39 for a two-pound box.

Mrs. Stevens candies are always favorites at any holiday time. We found pecan turtles from Mrs. Stevens' kitchens, at Thorne's, $1.50 a pound. Candy canes in this store are six for 29c in a box —Continued on Page 9

Lots of hard candies, packed in jars, and candy cigarettes for the youngest smokers in your family.

Chocolate apples from Holland —wonderful Droeste chocolate. Have you been to Viedt's, at 110 Nassau? This shop carries again the hand-carved and hand-painted wooden shoes from Holland, chocolate-filled, and fun to wear later for dress-up. At $3.25 and $3.45. Wooden shoes at Union Food, too, 205 Witherspoon.

Wallace's very thin wafer mints are available at Viedt's, and so are the pure barley sugar candies that so many children love. We found them formed like animals and stuck on a lollypop stick. Whitman's Sampler boxes are in this shop, too, and so is Fanny Farmer. Rosemarie de Paris is at The Nassau Candy Centre.

The Nassau Delicatessen offers cherry pralines and specialties like Napoleon rum cakes, mint pecans and brandycakes made with chocolate and rum. At The Food Mart, 20 Witherspoon, we found a triple pack candy in three separate boxes: one dark chocolate, one light, one cordials. Open one box at a time and nothing grows stale. Hard candy at The Food Mart and the Union Food Market comes in a useful glass pitcher.

An old-fashioned apothecary jar holds hard candy for $5.50. (It's $3.95, empty). This is at The Princeton Gourmet.

Christmas foods are packaged for giving, or for serving at your own table. Bamman's, 10 Nassau, will make up fruit baskets to send anywhere for $3.50 to $25. If it's a local gift, place your order by —Continued on Page 14

Cordero, both of Blair Hall, were fined Tuesday for disorderly conduct while under the influence of liquor.

Ernst Adam, 50 Humbert Street, paid a $15 fine for careless driving. Three speeding convictions brought revocation of his license for 60 days to Kenneth McEwen of 27 Green Street.

Eugene J. Carroll, arrested in Levittown, N. Y., has admitted to police that he robbed dormitories on a number of eastern college campuses, adding that of all those he visited, Princeton was his favorite. He is believed by proctor Michael C. Kopliner to have made off with typewriters, binoculars, electric razors, cameras, watches and clothing over a period of the past two years.

Both fire alarms on Saturday (one at 3:25 a.m., the other at 11:20 p.m.) were false. Both came from Box 32, at the corner of Washington Road and Prospect Street.

The Auxiliary of American Legion Post No. 76 will hold its annual Christmas party at 8 p.m. Monday at the post headquarters.

ters. Mrs. Anna Clayton will conduct the meeting, which will be followed by the party and exchange of gifts.

The Public Library has announced that its annual Christmas Story Hour will be held this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 11. The program is open to all children and the stories will be chosen especially for ages 4 through 9.

Princeton High School's Class of 1947 has planned a cocktail and dinner-dance reunion for next Saturday, December 26. The reunion will start at 6:30 at the Far Hills Inn in Somerville.

Miss Doris Fasanella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Fasanella, 222 Moore Street, has returned for the Christmas holidays from Springfield College, Springfield, Mass.

News of the Theatres

MURRAY THEATRE

The Community Players will again tell the Christmas Story with their notable production, "The Giotto Frescoes," this Sunday and Monday in Murray Theatre. A special children's performance will be given at 4 on Sunday and at 8:30 Monday. Tickets at 50 cents for children and $1.20 for adults are now available at the University Store and it is recommended that they be purchased as soon as possible since last year's demand far exceeded Murray's capacity.

Now being done for the third year, the production was originated by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cook. They are currently in Padua where Giotto painted the frescoes over 650 years ago. Seven of the scenes of Christ's life are taken for the Players' tableaux, and the actors are dressed in costumes copied from the paintings.

The Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church will tell the Christmas Story in a narration adopted from the Bible by Peter Miller. A choral group directed by Elliot Forbes will sing Christmas hymns and madrigals to accompany the stage action. Direction by John Becker.

UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

The 350 voices of Princeton High School's choral groups will present the school's annual Christmas concert at 8 p.m. Monday in the University Chapel. Thomas Hilbish will direct the program, which will include a Christmas Cantata composed for the concert by Mrs. Mathilde McKinney and a ceremony of carols accompanied by Mrs. Steffy Ormandy, harpist.

THE PLAYHOUSE

With the exception of the free cartoon-show for children at The Playhouse on Christmas Eve (5:45 p.m.), both movie theatres will be closed next Thursday. Movie-goers should note the scheduling changes below.

Take the High Ground (Fri.-Wed.) is a semi-documentary of 16 weeks of the Army's infantry basic training. The location scenes at Fort Bliss give a straight-forward view of such elements of the process of turning civilians into fighting men as are permissible. Richard Widmark plays a rough, severe professional soldier training his charges with skill and ferocity. Karl Malden plays his slightly more human sidekick. There is a slight romantic subplot involving Elaine Stewart, MGM's new glamour threat. In Anseo Color.

Here Come the Girls (Fri.-Tues.) features Bob Hope in another wacky Technicolor musical comedy. Hope, playing the world's oldest chorus boy, is the center of the nonsensical plot as usual. Rosemary Clooney assists with songs and as the "straight man," with Tony Martin and Arlene Dahl also joining in.

THE GARDEN

The Moonlighter (Fri. - Sat.) finds Fred MacMurray playing a cattle rustler (by moonlight). Another criminal is lynched in his place and MacMurray really goes sour. More crime, and then the inevitable romantic regeneration (via Barbara Stanwyck). He gives himself up and she'll wait.

The Joe Louis Story (Mon.-Wed.) shows the highlights of the great boxing champion's ring career with skill and feeling. His rise from the streets of Detroit to ring glory and then decline is superbly shown by Coley Wallace, a heavyweight contender himself. The story is smoothed out, of course, but not the footage of the Brown Bomber's battles in the ring. Among the fights included are those with Max Schmeling, Primo Carnera, Max Baer, Jim Braddock and Rocky Marciano.

Thunder Over the Plains (Fri.-Sat.) brings Randolph Scott to another of his Western dramas. This one's about some scheming carpetbaggers in post-Civil War Texas, and Scott gets into considerable difficulties of the action sort before finally squaring everything away. Lex Barker and Phyllis Kirk are in support.

December 23. The Heinz Gift Box at Bannan's is called "Sweet and Spicy." It has jellies and pickles surrounding a serving dish of Foster's glass.
From Rosedale on Alexander Street, order a ham, plain or decorated, for any feasts between now and New Year's. A cooked ham from Rosedale is $1.03 a pound plain, or $1 extra per ham, if you have it criss-crossed, clove studded and garnished with pineapple.
Slow cooking makes the flavor really special; these hams are cooked for 30 hours at a low temperature. Country smoked hams from Rosedale are 82c a pound. Nice gift idea.

Gift baskets from the Nassau Delicatessen, 45 Palmer Square W., are delicate eating indeed. Prices start at $7.50 and ascend as far as you want to go. Fruit cakes and plum puddings here, and those Christmas nibblers, pfefferneuse, springerle, anise cookies, and chocolate lebkuchen. Buy some for children to eat while they trim the tree.
More fruitcakes at Schafer's Market, 350 Nassau, where Keller Shortbreads are a feature of the holiday shelf, and at the Union Food Market.

Princeton Gourmet, 180 Nassau, will pack you boxes or baskets or anything you want. Look at the cracker basket packed with pepper mill and jar of pepper-corns for $3.75, or the nutmeg grater with nutmegs for the same price. Four gourmet-class French soups go in a big square basket for $4.80.
Nine Bellows' spices in their jars rest on an antique wooden spice rack for $6.50. A spice or herb collection could be housed in empty glass apothecary jars on antique wooden shelves. For $8.80.

Give your tea-loving friends Gourmet's tea sampler by Tea Taster, nine kinds for $2.25. Bouquet Garni come in a gift box that has herb suggestions printed on its back. Three kinds of bouquets, eight of each kind for $1.50. English jams by Cooper of Oxford feature exotic flavors like bramble, or black currant.

Fermented. For connoisseurs, a matchless gift. Look at Wine and Game's Royal Salute, a 21-year-old Scotch in a flask by Royal Doulton, embossed with crown in honor of this coronation year. It's to commemorate the crowning of the queen, and a royal gift it is. Doulton made 5,000 of the containers then broke the mold.

Royal Salute presumably kept its mold, but that doesn't make the whiskey any less precious. It comes in a deep green velvet pouch tied with gold draw-string. Price: $22.50.

Gift baskets in this shop at 6 Nassau, could be a hamper, a fishing creel, wine tippler, or a maple bucket. Why not a Scotch Kooler packed with something cooling? A double gift is always acceptable among the Scotch. If you want to look reasonable without the expense of a basket, Wine and Game has Christmas boxes for your bottle.

What's with the turkey? If you like a red wine, Cousins at 51 Palmer Square West, has a Burgundy—Clos de Vougeot '47, an estate bottling that's exclusive with Cousins. Or try a Bordeaux—Chateau la Tour, '49. If it's white wine you prefer, look at a Burgundy—an estate bottling of Chevalier Montrachet '49, or the white Chateau Haut-Brion '50 from Bordeaux.

Here at Cousins we found a pre-World-War I whiskey, Old Bridgeport Monongahela, a pure rye from the Hamburger Distillery. Christmas wrapped, it's $7.50 a pint, in pint bottles only.

Claridge's, 40 Leigh Avenue, has imported from Italy some figurines filled with Italian wines. There's a fish, a bull on his haunches, and an egg with chicken on top. They are $2.89 each, and hold muscatels or marsala.

Claridge's also like a Medoc which is only $1.09 a fifth, and a Graves '47, which is $1.19 a fifth. The champagne to buy in this store is from Roger Louis, '47, extra-dry. It's $4.32.

Pick up a snack with your bottle when you buy at Community Wine and Liquor, 20 Witherspoon. Imported Swiss cheese, Norwegian smoked kippers, anchovies, pretzels, and the usual crackers and potato chips are all on the snack rack.

Wines from Community are imported and domestic, from Alsace, Germany, Italy and France. Egg-Nog waits for you on ice, to take home chilled for your guests.

Yeoman's, 108 Nassau, has a window of decanters, each one designed for giving. (Did you know that there is no extra price for these Christmas decanters?) They

Sports in Princeton

Ten on the Road. From this Friday, December 18, through Monday, January 4, Princeton will play five hockey and five basketball games, all of them away from home. Any combination of more than two victories will be quite surprising, not because the young Tiger teams are so short of potential ability but because they will play a number of the best Eastern outfits in both sports.

It is possible that the Nassau quintet will defeat Rutgers at New Brunswick this Friday night. After that, however, road victories over Rochester, Syracuse, Pittsburgh or Navy will be distinct achievements.

The story is the same for the hockey forces. This weekend, they face Boston University and Boston College on ice away from home; New Year's weekend at Troy, N. Y., it will be St. Francis Xavier, Rensselaer Poly and Brown. The first-named is a fine Canadian team from Nova Scotia; of the latter two, Brown may be about the Tigers' strength but the contest will be the third for them in as many days.

Hope for the Future. Actually, nothing that occurred in the first home games of the season is cause for discouragement. The hockey team led a good St. Lawrence aggregation, 2-1, at the end of the first period, and was only behind by 3-2 at the end of two. Then, short of practice and playing its first intercollegiate game of the season, it simply ran out of gas and lost, 6-2.

Coppy Cappon's basketball team was also ahead of a highly capable Fordham entry in the early stages of the first half, and trailed by only two points at the intermission. Then the big Rams took charge and rode off with a 74-61 triumph. It was their fourth without a loss this year.

Torrey Stars. Two periods of great play by Captain Blair Torrey in the goal kept the St. Lawrence game from getting away from the Tigers until the final minutes. He was credited with the extremely high total of 32 saves in the first two rounds—at one point making 11 in seven minutes.

It was during this stretch in the second period that the Tigers were two men short for better than three minutes. Torrey kicking out all but one of the shots taken at him. Later, St. Lawrence had two men in the coop simultaneously but Princeton could not muster the goal that would have deadlocked the game at 3-all.

Save for a brief battle between Pete Gall and Charlie Lundberg of the visitors, which drew a five-minute penalty and disqualification for both players, the game was not rough. Yet officials Ed

French and Joe Callinan managed to call a total of 15 penalties—six of them against defenseman Dick Court. The latter figure is in all probability a Baker Rink record.

Trailing by a goal as the first period drew to a close, Princeton scored twice in 26 seconds to take the lead. Court's shin-high shot from the just inside the blue line at 19:30 was partially screened from goalie Bill Sloan, who never saw it. With four seconds left, Pete Gall slapped in a backhand jab in picturesque fashion to climax a close-range scrimmage.

St. Lawrence dominated the play from there, however, penalties hurting the Tigers' chances and then the visitors' greater lasting power taking its toll. Torrey had 39 saves before Bill Van Alstyne replaced him with about eight minutes to go.

The Tigers' first line of Gail and Roger Boocock on the wings and George Scragg at center will score its share of goals, while Ed Stimpson's ability to center the second line with Bill Osgood and sophomore John Butsch is helpful. If the drive and spirit remains in the face of what must be fairly frequent defeats in the immediate future, the Tigers will give a good late-season account of themselves.

First Half Close. When Fordham's center, big Ed Conlin, could account for only eight points in the first half, the Rams were in trouble. For a span of seven minutes in the second period, they were held scoreless from the floor, and Princeton moved into a 26-20 lead.

Conlin had, however, drawn four fouls from center Dick Batt and that told the eventual story. When play resumed, sophomore Tom Orvald went against Conlin and, despite signs of promise, could not stop the 6-5 New Yorker. Batt came back but soon fouled out and Conlin went on to account for 17 points in as many minutes, his total of 11 field goals tying the Dillon floor record.

For Princeton, Mike Loprete was a pleasant surprise, netting 19 points to top by ten his best single game total of last season. The Nassau senior is only 5-10 but has basketball know-how.

Bud Haabestad's shooting eye was off, particularly in the first half, most of his 13 points coming when the Rams had the game on ice. It was 20-19 for Fordham after one period and 30-28 at the

Public Skating Hours

During the Christmas holidays, public skating will follow this schedule in Baker Rink:

Adults: December 19, 20, 26, 27, Jan. 2, 3; 8 to 10 p.m.

Children: Dec. 19, 26, 28, 29, 30; 9 to 11 a.m.

Combined Session: Dec. 18; 8 to 10 p.m.

Admission: Adults 60c, Children 30c.

half but at the three-quarter mark, the Rams had increased their lead to 56-46.

Earlier in the week, Lafayette had topped the Nassau quintet at Easton, 69-61. It was 30-all at the half but the Leopards had the drive to prevail in the closing minutes. Dick Batt's 20 points for the Tigers, later coupled with his good defensive play against Fordham, were heartening.

PHS Defeated. A sharpshooting Neptune High squad romped to a 79-45 victory over Princeton High Friday in the season's opener for both squads. Paced by forward Joe Austin's 23 points, the visitors rolled to a 40-20 halftime margin and then added 24 points in the third period intermission.

The Little Tigers, led by Marv Trotman's 17 points, made a game of it in the opening minutes before Neptune reeled off eight straight points at the end of the frame for an early 19-8 lead. Another 21 points in the next eight minutes put the game beyond reach.

Hun Likewise. Rutgers Prep's Al Murasko hit for 34 points Saturday afternoon as he led his squad to an 81-38 triumph over an outclassed Hun outfit. It was the first game of the season for the Red and Black, which will have a lay-off until after Christmas.

Hun's Vic Perone was the only man to hit double figures for the losers as he tallied 13 points. Faced with the same problem of inexperience which has hit Princeton High, Hun will be inactive until it faces St. Benedict's on January 9.

Country Day Awards. Nine members of Princeton Country Day's six-man football squad and 15 boys on the soccer team have been awarded letters this week. It was announced at the same time that Patrick Rulon-Miller has been named captain-elect in football.

Football letters were awarded by Coach Lester Tibbals to: Lance Odden, captain; Patrick Rulon-Miller, John Burbidge, John Martinelli, Harold Davis, David Peterson, John Kales, Andrew Kerr and Roger Hoyt.

Coach Herbert McAneny presented soccer awards to captain Benny Hubby, David Maxwell, Michael McKenzie, Jeff Osborne, Austin Sullivan, Taylor Woodward, Jackson Sloan, William Starkey, Robert Dorf, Andrew Godfrey, Roger Kirkpatrick, Daniel Quick, Christopher Shannon, David Smoyer and Donald Stuart, III.

Short Notes. Princeton's wrestling team swamped C.C.N.Y. Saturday, winning all bouts to earn a 34-0 victory. Four Princetonians pinned their opponents in less than six minutes and a fifth member of the losers defaulted after sustaining a wrenched shoulder.

Jimmy Reed, who doubles as a wrestling and soccer coach, has been appointed to the Soccer Games Committee of the U.S. Olympic Association. He will be one of the NCAA's two representatives on the eight-man body.

Hugh Fairman, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kenneth Fairman of Rosedale Lane, is a forward on the second line of the Taft hockey team. He played in Baker Rink Saturday as the Princeton freshmen trimmed the schoolboys, 4-2, and in Madison Square Garden Wednesday when Taft met St. Paul's.

The Lawrenceville Invitation Hockey tournament, featuring eight prep schools, will be staged in Baker Rink again because the artificial ice at Lawrenceville won't be ready until later in the winter. The first game of the two-day program is scheduled for New Year's Day at 8:30 a.m.

If Fuel Bills Were Printed on Rooftops You'd Insulate—FAST

Why let those fuel bills soar sky high? Seal your heat in with J-M Rockwool attic insulation and slash fuel bills a big 30%.

Rockwool is rot, vermin and fire-proof. Acts as a vapor barrier—protects framing members and ceilings from condensation damage. Installation is simple—just lay the blankets between the attic floor joists and fasten.

Insulate today — start fuel savings tomorrow. You don't need a fistful of cash either—we'll help arrange easy financing.

 are distributed by Old Forester, Fitzgerald, Old Grandad, and so on. Almost all of them are bourbon decanters, for some reason. Incidentally, at Yeomao's you may have a Serva-Keep bag filled with any bottles you choose, for a gift. Bag is useful for a long time to come.

Ballast. For some good solid snacks to go along with the drinks, drive out to Tornquist's at Griggstown where you'll find Scandinavian foods fit for a Viking king. Gjetost is that brown rich cheese.

If you like it, try the Nokkelost and other Danish and Norwegian cheeses. Salt herrings, head cheese, and all kinds of canned fish in this shop promise you a

New Year's buffet that is hearty and unusual.

Frozen hors d'oeuvres at the Nassau Delicatessen are frankfurters (frankfurters in a blanket) to slide under your broiler, cheese puffs, chicken livers, chicken or anchovies. Hors d'oeuvres are frozen at The Food Mart, too.

At Schafer's we found about ten different kinds of olives: stuffed with almonds or anchovies, all sizes, all degrees of ripeness. Food Mart's specialty shelves hold the Raffetto brand of cocktail foods.

English canape spreads at Princeton Gourniet are 75c a jar, for trout, shrimp, crab, kipper, or anchovy.

To the Toe. For the small stocking in your family, buy a model from the Hobby Center, 12 Witherspoon. And tell your children that this shop makes an extra effort to serve its youngest customers: prices are within almost any allowance, and children may browse and ponder as long as they wish.

Models begin with the 10c airplane and go up to a radio-controlled airplane that costs $50 and is probably not within almost any allowance. In between are the old-fashioned cars, battle-ships and jeeps that are beloved of every young model builder. The Hobby Center also has craft sets, whittling tools and similar articles.

For someone who has "everything," a plant from The Flower Basket, 136 Nassau; Applegate's, 474 Palmer Square West; or Heerman's, now at 423 Nassau. Ask any of these florists to arrange table settings, or floral pieces to decorate your house.

Small stuffers for last-minute hurrying might include the Tyrolean villages from Lillian Bellows or Clayton's; nested wooden dolls, Surprise bags for boys or girls, bracelet with the Lord's Prayer inside, or the two-week-old tiger, all from Lillian Bellows. At the Little Clothes Line, is a family of life-size mice dressed outlandishly in bridal veils or cowboy suits, and a three-inch tiger cheerleader.

Put it in a stocking with bunny fur top from Stonewald's, 13 Palmer Square West, or a white flannel stocking with sequins from the Princeton Decorating Shop. Hang it from a marble mantel or a humble wooden chair and sleep while Santa works his magic. Merry Christmas!
